RINGS 'STOLEN' FROM BODY OF DEAD PATIENT

POLICE and health chiefs have launched separate investigations into allegations two diamond rings were stolen from the body of a patient at Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital.

Alma Wade (93) was wearing the rings and a gold band when she passed away after three weeks of treatment for pneumonia.

But when her family went to the hospital to pick up her belongings, the diamond rings which she had worn every day for more than 60 years, were not handed back.

"This has absolutely devastated our family," said Natasha Jones-Chapman, who is Mrs Wade's eldest granddaughter.

"My nan lived a full and happy life and this has affected us more than her death. To think somebody might have touched her and taken her rings off after she died sickens me and it has absolutely sickened my dad."

Mrs Jones-Chapman (39), of Churchgate Street, Harlow, said she and her mother Janet (60) went to the hospital the day after Mrs Wade's death to collect her personal possessions but were shocked to find an envelope with her jewellery in it only contained the gold band.

They asked about the diamond rings and were told to return a few

MP claimed expenses on his Harlow home

HARLOW MP Bill Rammell spent almost £1,500 of taxpayers' money on replastering and installing downlights in a bedroom of his Harlow home.

According to the The Daily Telegraph, the new Minister of State for the Armed Forces claimed £1,360 on Parliamentary expenses for the redecoration work.

He also claimed £475 a month last year to pay interest costs on the mortgage for the property in Orchard Croft, which was designated his second home by House of Commons authorities after the MP purchased a one-bedroom flat in central London.

This week Mr Rammell repeated he had nothing to hide and said he supported Government plans for a complete overhaul of the expenses system.

"I have claimed for mortgage interest, repairs and maintenance, council tax, food, furnishings and utility bills on my Harlow home which the Commons authorities required me to designate my second home when I became a minister," he told the Star.

"Although my claims have always been within the rules and in the bottom 25 per cent of claimants, I recognise the expenses system is completely discredited which is why I no longer claim anything from the [additional costs] allowance.

"As MPs of all parties we are responsible for allowing a flawed and discredited system to continue for far too long. We now urgently need root and branch reform and I am strongly supporting that."

This week an official inquiry into MPs' expenses began. A full list of every claim made by ministers over the past four years is due to be published on the House of Commons website today.

September start for bin switchover

CONTROVERSIAL new arrangements for refuse and recycling collections will be wheeled out across Harlow from September.

Most of the town's homes – around 22,500 households – will be supplied with two-wheeled bins for general household waste and dry recyclable goods by the end of August.

They will also receive a separate container for food waste.

The changes will be phased in, with collections from each wheeled bin taking place on alternate weeks. Food waste will continue to be picked up weekly.

Residents in houses and low-rise properties will also be able to book special weekly collections for disposable nappies and incontinence products.

nence products.

Those living in flats will continue to receive weekly collections of residual waste and fortnightly pick-ups of dry recycling from communal bins, while anyone who has genuine difficulty in adapting to the new system can apply for assisted collections.

The decision to dump existing arrangements was confirmed by Harlow Council back in February, when it was revealed the current waste contractors Veolia had been handed the new contract following a tendering process.

Eddie Johnson, chairman of the council's environment and community committee, insisted a complete overhaul of the current system was needed to meet Government recycling targets.

"Harlow must do more to reduce, re-use and recycle waste," he said. "Councils up and down the country are changing and we need to ensure we provide the appropriate services to enable our residents to help with this change too."

"Continuing to send waste to landfill could have a knock-on effect for council taxpayers. Councils will be fined if they fail to reduce the amount of landfilled biodegradable waste, and landfill costs will increase. The potential extra costs of doing nothing have been estimated at £1m per month across Essex."

More information about the changes and how they will affect households across the town can be found on the council's website at www.harlow.gov.uk/wastecontract.

Rings 'stolen' from PAH patient's body

days later but decided to call in the police when the rings had still failed to materialise on their return visit.

Mrs Jones-Chapman added: "The care my nan received when she was at the hospital was absolutely fantastic and everybody did all they could, but the hospital has been really bad over the handling of this."

"Nobody seems to be taking it seriously. We don't know what happened, they might have been taken off while she was being washed and somebody saw them and took them or they might have been taken from her. But we do know she was wearing them when we left her after she had died."

A spokesman for the hospital confirmed a "formal" investigation is under way and added that it is co-operating fully with the police.

A spokesman for Essex Police also confirmed that it was investigating a report that rings were taken from a patient after she died at the hospital but declined to comment further.

Pupils leave the classroom to help out in community

YOUNGSTERS gave a helping hand in their community when they took to the streets as part of a citizenship project.

Hundreds of pupils from Passmores School, in Tendring Road, Harlow, left their classrooms to undertake various tasks.

Activities included gardening at Moot House in The Stow, St John's ARC in Old Harlow and Thornwood Common as well as helping out at various junior schools.

Sue Scott, teacher and organiser, said: "The idea is for young people to put something back into the community for a day."

"They all really enjoyed it and I think it is a worthwhile project for them to do."

Pupils use wheel power to raise funds

HARLOW FIELDS:

Pupils put the wheels in motion when they set about raising hundreds of pounds for their school.

A total of 95 pupils peddled their way around a choice of two courses - a mile around the grounds or a longer trip to the town centre - in the Wheels about Town event on Thursday.

They were cheered on by Harlow's Paralympic athlete Anne Wafula Strike.

"It was an absolutely fantastic event and all the children seemed to enjoy it very much," said a school spokesman.

● THE school has recently adopted a new "interactive citizenship resource" created by the charity Peace One Day to combat bullying, knife crime and other anti-social behaviour.

It includes 19 student-centred lesson plans as well as Peace Day Projects, cross-curricular links and video footage.

POD founder Jeremy Gilley said: "The goal of Peace One Day Education is to provide resource materials to every school on earth, inspiring a generation to become the driving force behind the vision of a united and sustainable world."

Council members say a final farewell

STEWARDS: School council members were presented with a red rose to mark the end of their period in office.

Assistant headteacher Marie Erwood praised the Year 11 students at a final meeting which was called to mark the occasion.

All of the outgoing members will be visiting the House of Commons in August, followed by lunch with Mrs Erwood at Harrods as a special thank you for their years of hard work.

"This trip will be funded courtesy of the Jack Petchey Awards which head girl Chloe Harbutt, Robyn Tennison and Tom Lewis have already received," said Mrs Erwood.

"Head boy George Hack, deputy head boy Luke Dangerfield and deputy head girl Kirstie Summerford all spoke eloquently about what their time as school councillors meant to them and how they really do not want to have to leave Stewards." (s)

Charity's thanks to school's swim stars

WILLIAM MARTIN JUNIOR: Pupils have been rewarded for their efforts after they jumped in at the deep end to raise cash for charity. About 40 children from the Tawneys Road school took part in a sponsored swimathon in February, raising almost £2,000 for the Alzheimer's Society.

In recognition of their efforts, a representative of the charity visited the school on Thursday to present it with a shield. In addition, all those who took part in the swim were given certificates.

Swim organiser and teacher Sally Butler said: "It was good for the children to be recognised as doing something positive for charity.

"They all enjoyed the swim and we will be hanging the award at the front entrance by the door so everybody can see it as they come in."

'Depressed' man died of stab wound to the heart

A POLISH immigrant living in Harlow killed himself with a knife following a battle with depression, an inquest heard on Tuesday.

The body of Dominik Kisztelinski (32) was found by police at his flat in Peacocks on July 22 last year.

A large knife and a note containing a reference to a poem were found near to his body.

Mr Kisztelinski's sister, Agnieszka, told Chelmsford Coroner's Court her brother had previously talked about taking his own life.

She said he called her on July 16 last year to say that he was worried about a presentation he was due to give at work.

She and their mother then received text messages sent from his phone two days later saying that he was very busy. It was to be the last they ever heard from him.

A post mortem examination confirmed the cause of death as haemorrhaging caused by a stab wound to the heart, while a toxicology report found Mr Kisztelinski had also taken a potentially lethal cocktail of paracetamol and phenazopyrine. Police officers who attended the scene found no evidence of anything suspicious.

Recording a verdict of suicide, coroner Caroline Beasley-Murray said: "I have come to the very sad conclusion that Mr Kisztelinski intended to take his own life."

"I would like to express the court's deepest sympathy to his family. Clearly he was a much-loved young man and you were very close and supportive of him."

Advice team to carry on a reduced service

THE future of Harlow Welfare Rights & Advice finally looks to be secure after councillors agreed in principle to award a cut-price five-year contract to the service.

The deal, which is set to begin on July 1, will provide HWRA with £120,000 of funding per year and enable a reduced service to continue operating from the Advice Centre in West Gate.

However, opening hours will be reduced and the number of staff trimmed.

The agreement comes after months of negotiations and legal wrangling about the future of HWRA which came to a head in March when the High Court ordered Harlow Council to reconsider its plans to slash the service's budget by up to 82 per cent.

The judge ruled that the authority had

By CHRIS MOSS
moss@hertssexnews.co.uk

failed in its legal obligation to give "due regard" to the impact of such a drastic cutback on those who relied most on the service – the vulnerable and needy members of the town's community.

The new contract, details of which were agreed at a behind-closed-doors meeting of the council's policy and resources committee last Wednesday, still represents a massive 72 per cent cut in HWRA's budget and will almost certainly lead to staff redundancies and a compromised level of service.

HWRA head Sue Jones told the Star: "We realise the council is in difficult financial circumstances so we welcome its decision to approve in principle a five-year contract for welfare rights and advice services."

"Unfortunately, because of the reduction in funding, we've had to reduce our opening hours and won't be able to offer the same levels of service as before. But it's still good news for the town and those who rely on our expertise every year.

"I would like to thank the many thousands of people who signed the petition to save the service; we are very grateful for all their support."

Council leader Andrew Johnson said the funding cut brought HWRA's budget in line with similar services provided in other towns and represented value for money for council taxpayers.

"This decision removes any uncertainty over HWRA's future," he added. "This deal represents value for money for the council and means high quality specialist services can continue to be provided for those who need help the most."

"Now we can look forward and continue to work with HWRA to provide advice services for the residents of Harlow at a level which is in line with other authorities."

Pleasures of pedal power

NATIONAL Bike Week got off to a wheely good start on Saturday when more than 60 people enjoyed the delights of two-wheeled transport.

There were four rides in Harlow, all of which started at the same time. Among those who joined in were Harlow MP Bill Rammell, several local councillors and Harlow's Cycle Tour Club representative John Curry.

Saturday's rides kicked off a series of events throughout the week which included a mystery tour of Harlow.

Mr Rammell said: "Here in Harlow we are lucky to have so many scenic cycle paths. National Bike Week provides a really good opportunity to promote our cycle routes and encourage people to dust off that old push bike they have in their garage."

"I have always participated in bike week and this year when John came to me wanting my assistance in making the event something really special, I was only too happy to help."

Recycling waste 'contaminated' by the wrong types of plastic

HOUSEHOLDERS have been told to be more careful about what they throw into their recycling bins following a rise in so-called 'contaminated' waste.

Council chiefs say that while recycling levels in Harlow continue to rise, more and more non-recyclable plastics are being put into bins.

As a result, some loads are not being collected and this is causing concern that there could be a detrimental effect on the town's recycling rates.

Tony Hall, chairman of the council's environment and community committee, said: "The people of Harlow continue to show their commitment to helping the environment by recycling ever increasing amounts of waste. Unfortunately very few waste recycling companies accept all kinds of plastics so we are asking residents to be careful that their recycling is not contaminated with the wrong type."

The kerbside collections of blue boxes and white bags containing plastic are only for plastic bottles without lids. Items such as plastic food trays, yoghurt pots and other packaging should be taken to designated recycling centres.

Family in shock after racist attack on dad

THE wife of a man who was injured in a suspected racist attack has spoken about the affect it has had on the family.

Sajjad Iqbal (37) needed six stitches to a wound on his wrist after he was pushed into a pond by a sniggering thug holding a bottle of beer.

As police stepped up their hunt to find the culprit, Mr Iqbal's wife Tanzeela (28) said the couple's two young sons were so upset by what happened they are having sleeping problems.

The incident, which police say could have had tragic consequences, happened last Wednesday while Mr and Mrs Iqbal and their children were standing by a pond near St Mark's School in Tripton Road, Harlow.

"We were standing there looking at the ducks when we saw two men talking to each other and looking at us," said Mrs Iqbal. "Then one of the men ran over and pushed my husband in the pond."

"They began laughing but when they saw my husband was injured they ran away."

"I believe they were racist because they picked on my husband for no reason which has left him very upset and very very shaken. The children were crying and they are having problems sleeping because they are so scared."

She added: "We are very peaceful people and he hadn't done anything to make this happen. We have lived here for six years and not had a problem before."

Inspector Andy Bray, of the Harlow neighbourhood policing team, is leading the search for the thug. "This was a mindless attack on a man who had been enjoying a walk around the pond with his wife and children," he said.

"Mr Iqbal received a serious injury to his arm in the fall but the incident could have had more tragic consequences had the water been deep and he had been unable to get out."

"Fortunately this sort of offence is not common in Harlow but we will be increasing patrols in the area and urge members of the public to come forward if they saw what happened or know the man responsible."

The man who carried out the attack is described as white, aged between 25-30 about 6ft tall with fair hair. He was wearing a dark jacket and blue jeans and was holding a bottle of Stella lager.

Anyone with information about the incident should contact Harlow police or 0300 333 4444.

It's official: Osteopathy can help!

RECENT research published by the National Institute of Health and Clinical Excellence (NICE) has announced that manipulation, massage and exercises should form part of the recovery plan for sufferers of low back pain that has been present for more than six weeks but less than one year.

Back pain is a growing problem and affects around one third of the UK adult population each year, according to NICE. It recommends guidelines about the treatment and care of patients after careful consideration of the available evidence.

Local osteopath Neil Bruce is pleased that the research shows manipulation massage and exercise have a significant role to play in speeding the recovery for low back pain sufferers. Neil, who practices in Old Harlow, commented: "It's refreshing to see that NICE is supporting the use of these techniques and recommending them as a first course of action in the fight against low back pain."

"Osteopaths have been promoting the benefits of massage, manipulation and exercise for many years and now the research bears this out. I'm sure that there will be a time when osteopathic treatment will be widely available in this area via the NHS and research such as this hastens that time."

The NICE guidelines acknowledge that low back pain is a common disorder and, once back pain has been present for more than one year, very few people with long term pain and disability return to normal activity.

Recent guidelines to GPs from the British Medical Association remind them that osteopaths have attained high levels of competence and that osteopathy is a regulated profession and that they can refer to osteopaths with confidence.

Neil has been working in Old Harlow for 15 years and treats a wide range of problems relating to injuries and damage to the musculoskeletal system.

"Treatment of low back pain is one very important aspect of an osteopath's range of skills," he said. "We also treat other sites of spinal pain and limb injuries that can result from sport or everyday tasks."

As well as treatment to injuries, Neil will also advise on office ergonomics and will be able to provide valuable information to assist with a variety of problems.

"Once the results from this research reaches the public I am sure they will be seeking osteopathic treatment to help them. This has to be very good news for back pain sufferers."

MONTHS of planning will come to fruition on Saturday night when Harlow's footpath and cycleways are engulfed in a sea of pink for St Clare Hospice's second Midnight Walk.

The final preparations are now being made for what promises to be a great night.

And with organisers expecting more than 1,600 walkers to set off on the 10km course, hopes are high that the event – which is supported by the Star – will reach its £120,000 target.

"The night is sure to be entertaining and great fun for everyone taking part," said communications manager Giles Wright. "The Hit Music team from Ten17 led by breakfast show presenter Terry James will be on stage with big tunes and party anthems and there will be lots of stalls including one selling those important bunny ears!"

"Last year was such a great event and we are certain this year is going to be even bigger and better!"

If you are one of those who have signed up to take part, please remember to bring with you the registration card you were sent. No-one will be allowed to take part unless they have pre-registered.

If you have a mobile telephone please bring it with you. Before you leave home enter the on-the-night help number 07910 498824 into the phone book and then use this to either call or text if you need assistance while on the walk.

All walkers who complete the course will receive a medal. In the unlikely event that you decide to leave the walk before finishing, please call or text the same number to let the organisers know.

Walk marshalls, police officers, special constables and community support officers will be positioned at various points along the route to ensure that no-one gets lost and to deal with any problems that may arise.

In addition, a mobile first aid unit will also be available to deal with any injuries that may be sustained.

The walk starts and finishes in the Water Gardens car park in Harlow town centre. When you arrive you must register at one of the desks which will be set up alphabetically by surname. Registration starts at 8.30pm. When you register you will receive a goodie bag containing a T-shirt, a carton of drink, a Midnight Walk teddy bear, a candle, pink shoe laces, lip balm, cereal bar and various stickers.

Before setting off, walkers will be encouraged to take part in a warm-up session which this year is being led by instructors from Harlow Sportcentre, including Caroline Rumble and Jon Sessions, pictured left. This will prepare you for the rest of the evening's exertions. The warm-up starts at 10pm.

"The team at Harlow Sportcentre are really proud to be supporting the Midnight Walk to help raise vital funds for St Clare Hospice," said marketing manager Emma Sproat.

"Our instructors have planned an easy-to-follow, fun and motivating warm-up to get the walkers limbered up for the event. We hope they'll love it!"

Once the warm-up has been completed, walkers will be asked to prepare for the start. PLEASE NOTE, THE MIDNIGHT WALK WILL START AT 10.30PM.

There is no time limit in which to complete the walk, although organisers expect everyone to have finished within four hours.

"We are over the moon with how many people have decided to paint the town pink and support the hospice," said events organiser Tracy Meale. "If everyone that has signed up raises £65 we will raise a staggering £120,000 towards the £2.5m it costs to provide our care each year."

Man admits harassing pregnant former girlfriend

A MAN who subjected his former girlfriend to a 36-hour ordeal after they had broken up has been spared jail.

Instead, Mark Bell (33) of Berecroft, Harlow, was made the subject of a two-year community order on condition he attends domestic abuse therapy.

Judge Christopher Ball warned Bell, who admitted harassment involving fear of violence: "If you keep coming back here you will go to prison."

Chelmsford Crown Court was told on Monday that after the relationship between Bell and Christine Keen ended he went to her house on November 23 last year and asked to speak to her.

Ms Keen, who was 10 weeks pregnant, agreed and then went to his house where her ordeal began.

Richard Kelly, prosecuting, told the court: "At about 6.30pm he refused to let her leave and she spent the night curled up on the floor. He had been angry, kicking bins and CD racks."

Mr Kelly said the argument related to her pregnancy and a previous relationship of his. Mr Kelly said that the following morning while Bell was having a shower Ms Keen tried to leave but he came down and stopped her.

Later they went to a pub and also stayed in a Travelodge where there was an incident involving the receptionist.

Mr Kelly continued: "Bell wasn't going to let Ms Keen leave while she had got his child."

Later they walked around the streets of Harlow arguing before she ended up at her mother's home. There was no reply but she went to a neighbour's house and police were called.

Noel Casey, representing Bell, said in mitigation his client had a history of bad tempered behaviour and loss of control but was willing to co-operate with a community order.

Scout's honour as Gordon gets MBE

A STALWART of the Scouting movement has spoken of his shock and delight at being awarded an MBE in the Queen's Birthday Honours.

For the past 16 years Gordon Henshall (65) has been running the Essex Experience, a project training young adults to mentor 12-15 year-olds at risk of social exclusion.

Each year he raises £80,000 to run the project which includes an activity weekend held near Chelmsford.

He has been awarded the MBE (Member of the Order of the British Empire) in recognition of his voluntary service to the Scouts in Essex.

"I wasn't expecting it at all," Mr Henshall, who lives in the Latton Bush area of Harlow, told the Star this week.

By LOUISE SASSOON
News Editor

sassoonl@hertsessexnews.co.uk

"It is nice for people to have put me forward but, of course, it's more than just me. There is a group of 100 volunteers who support this and it is very much a joint effort."

Mr Henshall, who is director of community development for Essex Scouts, first thought up the idea for the Essex Experience in the 1990s and it evolved from there.

Through the scheme young adults from the community sign up to train in team building, leadership and communications skills and learn how to run various activities.

Their new-found skills are then put

to the test when they take charge of 150 youngsters for the activity weekend.

The project's success has already seen Mr Henshall receive the national accolade of Volunteer of the Year and a High Sheriff Award. But he said his MBE, of which he was informed by letter in May, is the icing on the cake.

"It is nice to be recognised in this way," he said. "I wouldn't say I'm nervous about meeting the Queen but it will certainly be something very different!"

● ANNE McConnell (82), from Epping, has been awarded an MBE for her services to the disabled in Essex after clocking up nearly 50 years of voluntary work for the Winged Fellowship (now Vitalise). The charity provides respite care and holidays for severely disabled people.

Magic moment for young Ella

A HARLOW youngster has been picked to feature in a television advertisement for a commercial radio station.

Ella Seary (5), of Guilfords, Old Harlow, is one of six who will appear in the advert for Magic after her nan, Sandra Hart, sent in her photograph.

Ella's proud mum, Michelle Seary, said "We send off for these things and she seems to get them all. I think it's because she's photogenic."

"It's just a fun thing at the moment; we'll keep entering her and if it takes off it will be great."

The advert, in which a slideshow of all the winners is shown with background music, will be screened from next month.

The photograph of Ella, which was taken two years ago, will now be put forward for a billboard campaign for which the winner will receive a £1,000 prize.

This is not Ella's first brush with fame. Previously she has been involved in "PICME" on Nickelodeon Junior in which she was made into a cartoon character.

Volunteers to help out in Kazakhstan

A BAND of kind-hearted volunteers are swapping their comfortable lifestyles to help charities in Kazakhstan.

Seventeen youngsters, some from Harlow, have joined others from across the UK for the second phase of the Global Xchange programme which is jointly run by Voluntary Service Overseas and the British Council.

The scheme has already seen young people from Kazakhstan and across the UK come to Essex to give a helping hand to groups and good causes including Harlow homeless charity Streets2homes.

Now they intend to return the favour during a three-month stay in Kazakhstan.

The project, which has run since 1999, encourages young people to become global citizens by developing an interest in local, national and international issues and taking action to address them.

Beth Williams (24) has been working in Harlow for the past three months and said she was excited about her next adventure.

"We will not know what the specifics of our placements will be until we get out there but we know we will be helping with various programmes including sexual health and raising awareness of HIV and Aids, as well as helping disabled people broaden their skills to help them get new jobs.

"This is my first time on the programme and I have really enjoyed working in Harlow. Now I am really excited about going to Kazakhstan.

"It is fantastic to be integrated into a community and to see how local community development works, both here in Harlow and elsewhere. We are all from different backgrounds as it is great to have a team which is so diverse!"

Hospice launches service for carers

CARERS who dedicate their lives to looking after loved ones are to benefit from a new support scheme.

St Clare Hospice has launched a service to help them with their responsibilities and change of lifestyle by offering advice and information as well as a friendly ear and the opportunity to take time out.

"The vast majority of our patients have at least one close friend or family member caring for them," said day therapy manager Beth Burton, pictured left with day therapy nurse Jennie Beehan.

"As a hospice we are determined to be able to support friends and family as well as our patients.

"Our new carers' group will provide support, information and advice but also a place for carers to come and relax and be pampered for a while.

"We have volunteers who can pick them up and other volunteers who are able to sit with patients, enabling their carer to have some time out.

"Hospice care is unique in the way that it provides care and recognises the needs of those surrounding a patient and not just the patient themselves."

St Clare communications officer Giles Wright added: "This is another example of how, as a charity, we are striving to deliver the very best care to all those who need it when faced with a life-limiting illness.

"Through working with our volunteers, we look set to be able to support even more people from the communities we serve."

Cops warn vandals of crackdown

VANDALS are being warned to think twice before committing offences this summer as police in Harlow vow to crack down on criminal damage.

A total of 38 incidents were recorded during the first 10 days of last month but over the same period this month there have already been 50 reports.

Chief inspector Nick Morris, commander of the Harlow district, said: "People often don't realise their actions could be seen as reckless until it's too late. Many senseless pranks showing off in front of friends have led to people spending a night in a cell, a court appearance and a criminal record.

"My message goes out to any offenders: you have been warned. Stop now or face the consequences."

Despite the recent spate of crimes, police have succeeded in reducing the number of incidents of criminal damage since last year.

In April and May 2008 nearly 300

By SOPHIE WARNER
warners@hertsexnews.co.uk

reports were received but over the same period this year there had been only 230 offences reported, a drop of 21 per cent.

One victim of the recent spate said it was costing her £1,000 to have her car repaired after it was scratched with a car key while parked in Harlow.

"I was looking forward to taking my nine-year-old son on holiday this year, which may not be an option now," she said.

"The people who did this need to think about how they would feel if it happened to them or their parents. What would they have to go without in order to pay for it?"

Chief Inspector Morris added: "Some see these incidents as minor but for every incident there is a victim who files a report of criminal damage with us.

"All reports are fully investigated by my officers and any offenders identified are placed before the courts. Each month we are arresting more people for this type of crime."

Joan (75) lands saucy role in new TV advert

A PENSIONER is appearing in front rooms of homes throughout the country as the star of a new television advert for one of Britain's leading brands of tomato sauce.

Joan Izzat (75), of Epping Road, Roydon, showcases her acting skills in a new advert for Heinz Ketchup.

"I was thrilled to bits when they told me I got the role," she said. "I am very pleased to have got Heinz as I really believe in the well known brand."

The advert, which takes inspiration from a 1970s commercial, features individual actors performing recognisable ketchup rituals with an invisible bottle such as hitting the bottom to free the sauce, freeing it with a knife and squeezing the contents on to fish fingers.

Joan is seen in a fish and chip shop tucking into a plate of chips smothered in the sauce.

She has been acting for 60 years after attending RADA, the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art. She has performed at The Playhouse and in productions by the Moot House Players.

Joan, who has yet to see the advert, said: "It was funny because in between takes the props lady kept rearranging my chips so that they looked nice for the advert!"

Gang stole cash from rail station ticket machines

A GANG used an oxyacetylene torch to prize open ticket machines on train station platforms late at night and take the cash, a court heard.

The four crooks stole just under £2,500 but in the process caused damage that cost almost £30,000 to repair.

The court heard ticket machines at Harlow Mill, Sawbridgeworth, Cuffley and Cheshunt were hit.

Russell North (36), of Milwards, Harlow, and Philip Walsh (22), of Hornbeams, Harlow, pleaded guilty to conspiracy to steal. North's nephew Rico Miller (19), of Milwards, Harlow, and Ricky Crook (23), of Adams House, The High, Harlow, admitted three counts of theft.

St Albans Crown Court heard on Tuesday the thefts took place during a two-week period last year.

Colin Banham, prosecuting, said the defendants were arrested after police stopped a car carrying three of the men in Waltham Cross.

North was jailed for 20 months and ordered to pay £1,250 compensation for the damage.

Miller was given eight months in a young offenders' institute which was suspended for two years, ordered to complete 150 hours of unpaid work and pay £2,000 in compensation.

Crook was given an eight-month prison sentence suspended for two years, placed under supervision for 18 months and ordered to carry out 100 hours of unpaid work.

Walsh was given a 12-month sentence suspended for two years, ordered to carry out 200 hours of unpaid work and pay compensation of £3,000.

Former Zavvi staff look forward to challenges of a life Outdoors

SHOP workers who lost their jobs following the collapse of the Zavvi music chain are enjoying a fresh challenge with the opening of a new store selling outdoor equipment and clothing.

Dave Smith and Paul Pledger, who both worked at Zavvi stores in Essex, now have new roles at GO Outdoors, which officially opened its Harlow store in Edinburgh Way on Saturday.

"The Zavvi redundancy was a sad day for so many of us, but less than three months later those days seem a long time ago thanks to our new beginning with GO Outdoors," said Mr Smith.

"It made sense to recruit from the Zavvi team because we all know the retail business inside out, but we've also recruited new staff including outdoor enthusiasts."

More than 1,000 people applied for 30 jobs which included warehouse staff, sales advisors and team leaders. It was the second highest number of applications in the company's history.

Mr Smith added: "We were hoping for a healthy interest in our new store

but this has exceeded all our expectations. We've opened new stores before and always enjoyed a healthy interest in our company's career opportunities – but we've never had a response like this."

GO Outdoors Harlow is the chain's 15th store and the first in Essex to feature a six-metre-high climbing wall.

Terrified teen's train ride ordeal

TALK about a lucky escape! An American tourist miraculously survived after spending two hours clinging to the outside of a long-distance train as it sped through the Australian outback.

Chad Vance (19) had got off train to stretch his legs during a 40-minute stop and thought he had returned in plenty of time to get back to his seat before it pulled away.

But when he saw it heading out of the station in southern Australia without him, he grabbed the stairway handrail to leap on board.

Squeezed into the tiny stairwell, terrified Chad, pictured above, had to hold on for dear life for two hours before anyone heard his calls for help.

Dressed in just jeans and a T-shirt, he almost froze to death as the overnight train reached speeds of up to 70mph in temperatures as low as -7C. Despite this he still managed to film some of his ordeal on his digital camera.

He was finally rescued when engineer Marty Wells heard him banging and yelling and pulled the emergency brake to stop the train.

Speaking about his frightening ordeal, Chad said he didn't think twice about jumping onto the train as his luggage and passport were all on board.

"Call it instinct but I just went for it and I didn't even consider if I would be in any trouble," he told an Australian journalist. "I feel very lucky to be alive."

The train, which is known as The Ghan, travels from Adelaide to Alice Springs and Darwin, taking two nights to cover 2,979km.

Glass manufacturer keeps 'green' status

A GLASS packaging manufacturer in Harlow has had its environmental credentials reaffirmed after passing tough industry standard tests.

O-I, in Edinburgh Way, has been awarded the Environmental Management Standard Award following an independent assessment of environmental considerations covering all aspects of production and administration.

Tim Neal, O-I's manufacturing, environment and energy manager, said: "This is a very difficult standard to achieve and even more difficult to maintain which is why the Harlow employees can take such pride in this award."

"The standard covers far more than just keeping good environmental records. It is the framework on which everyone who works at O-I can help reduce the company's environmental impact."

New signs keep M11 drivers in the picture

MOTORWAY drivers will start to see some new signs on the M11 from this week.

The Highways Agency is changing the display on around a dozen existing overhead electronic signs between the M25 and Stansted junctions to display pictures as well as words.

Designs are based on familiar road signs such as those for accidents, queues, snow and ice, high winds and the risk of skidding.

Highways Agency chiefs say the well-known symbols are being introduced because they are easy for all road users to read and can help to make roads safer.

At the moment the motorway signs are only able to display text messages in block capitals.

Sprite-ly Michaela's a cover star

A FORMER binge eater has turned cover girl after ditching her calorific excesses to shed a quarter of her body weight.

Michaela Rose (21) consumed a whopping 3,000 calories a day – a third more than the recommended daily allowance for women – and shot up to a size 18.

But after she joined a slimming class and dropped almost four stone and five dress sizes to a trim 8st 12lb, she has been snapped up to flaunt her new look on the front of next month's edition of Rosemary Conley Diet and Fitness.

The administrative assistant, of Willowfield, Harlow, said this week: "I was a cheese addict. In the morning I would get up and have a cheese toastie and then have a chocolate bar mid morning and a shop-bought sandwich, packet of crisps and another chocolate bar for lunch."

"Then I would have another chocolate bar in the afternoon and dinner would always be something my mum was cooking like

By LOUISE SASSOON, News Editor
sassoone@hertsexsexnews.co.uk spaghetti bolognese which I would have seconds of smothered in cheese. I was drinking about nine cans of Sprite a day as well."

It took an embarrassing incident on a night out for Michaela to finally face up to her weight problem. She had bought a size 16 dress for a family party but burst the zip as she stepped out of the taxi. She had to spend the evening dressed in a cousin's T-shirt to cover the top half of her outfit.

She took matters into her own hands and joined a Rosemary Conley Diet and Fitness Club, cutting her daily intake down to 1,200 calories for two weeks before gradually building to 1,800.

"If it hadn't been for the nightmare with that dress I think I'd have kept expanding," said Michaela, who began to put on weight after leaving school.

"Everybody has been saying how different I look. They say I look a lot younger now and my skin looks better. I feel better too."

You will always be in my thoughts and heart every day. This is not the end Dad, we will meet up again, moaning, laughing and joking together.

You have been the best Dad to me and Jackie and to all your Grandchildren.

God Bless you John, Jackie, Keeley and Josh.

Beat credit crunch at Harlow Business Centre

FOUR units at Harlow Business Centre, in Lovett Road, Pinnacles East, are currently getting refits. Each of the 979 sq.ft (91 sq.m) units has an overhead roller shutter door and personnel entrance, a small office with suspended ceiling, fitted WC with hand basin and hot water heater, a kitchenette area and an extensive full-height workspace with three-phase electricity. Ample parking is available.

Whether businesses are looking to expand or downsize, the 'easy in, easy out' licence agreement takes the risk factor out of making that move.

Security is provided, along with maintenance and insurance of the premises. Refuse will be collected and tenants will have 24/7 access to their unit.

The on-site centre manager is happy to oversee deliveries and, if required, provide administrative support for businesses.

Businesses looking to make a fresh start can call the centre manager on (01279) 429644 for a look round. They'll be amazed at the competitive prices.

Organic produce you don't eat

FAMILY-run online store tinygreen.co.uk specialises in organically-manufactured clothing and products for babies.

Marrisa Holliland started tinygreen shortly after giving birth to her first child, Lily-Anne. Although she had always been environmentally conscious, it wasn't until Marrisa saw an organic T-shirt in a high street store that she learned organically-grown produce can't just be eaten, it can be worn.

"Having a child of my own made me think even more about preserving the planet for future generations," said Marrisa.

"But it also made me realise how important functionality and style are to mums. tinygreen is a company that helps new parents keep their kids looking fabulous, at the same time as protecting the earth for their future."

tinygreen.co.uk now stocks a range of designer blankets, outfits and accessories. If there is something special you are looking for, please email marrisa@tinygreen.co.uk.

Centre of excellence

BEANE Valley Children's Centre is celebrating after a visit from Vicki Lant, of Together for Children, confirmed that the services offered meet Government targets to support families.

Vicki found that the Children's Centre runs a wide range of activities across East Herts, centred on Watton-at-Stone, and was impressed by the way in which the challenge of covering a huge rural area was tackled.

Families do not have to get to a central building as the staff take out equipment and run sessions in village halls. The centre runs Stay-and-Play sessions in six villages, along with Musical Minis, a Toy Library, a Saturday Dads' Club and Chatterbox, a weekly group for children focussing on speech and language.

Parents can access a variety of courses, information about jobs and training and financial advice through the Citizens Advice Bureau. Family workers also work with schools and pre-schools and can visit families at home to provide individual support when needed.

The Extended Services also co-ordinate out-of-school clubs for childcare and activities for older children including a new Holiday Club starting at Watton-at-Stone this summer.

For more details see www.wattonatstone.herts.sch.uk/centre.

Perfect vehicle for precious cargo

CHOOSING a car seat is one of the most important decisions you can make for your baby.

There are so many considerations to take into account when looking for your car seat such as your child's weight and height, whether the car seat meets all British and European safety standards and that it fits the model of your car.

Infant carriers are the ideal vehicle to carry tiny tots and the Primo Viaggio IP is suitable from birth to 13kg (approximately 12 to 15 months).

For Mamas & Papas car seat fitting and suitability advice, visit Mamas & Papas' Cheshunt store, at the very end of High Street.

A CHARITABLE performing arts group will brave the unpredictable British weather to perform a rousing open-air production of one of Shakespeare's best-loved comedies in Old Harlow on Saturday afternoon.

Set against the stunning backdrop of Feltimores Country House in Churchgate Street, the aptly named Rain Or Shine Theatre Company will present a light-hearted outdoor rendition of the Bard's hilarious Taming Of The Shrew.

The play follows the exploits of Petruchio, a self-confessed fortune-hunter, in his search for a wife. His unconventional wooing technique sets the scene for a brilliantly witty performance full of slapstick humour, cunning disguises, identity theft, sibling rivalry and romantic farce as he attempts to win over the feisty Katharina.

Hosted at the 19th century former gentlemen's residence by the Friends of Samaritans, all money raised from the event will be donated to the charity's 24-hour call centre in Ware to help provide emotional support to those in distress and despair.

The performance is part of a 60-date national tour playing at castles, stately homes and country homes across the UK.

Promoter Lena O'Shea told the Star the show will go on no matter what the weather holds in store.

"True to their name, the company performs in all weathers – with the possible exceptions of hurricanes and blizzards!" she said.

● The show will start at 4pm and tickets are available from (01279) 429445 or online at www.ticketweb.co.uk priced at £15 (£8 children).

Put Harlow on the poetry map

BUDDING poets have until June 30 to enter their work into a prestigious national competition.

One lucky wordsmith will represent Harlow in this year's National Poetry Anthology, an annual collection of the finest verses submitted by amateur poets from across the UK.

Entry to the competition is free and the Harlow champion will receive a copy of the book and the chance to win the £1,000 top prize.

Editor Peter Quinn said: "We picked 285 town winners last year but we want the new edition to include a winner from every town and village in the circulation area of the Star. So far we haven't had enough entries from the area to achieve that."

To enter, send three unpublished poems on any subject (up to 20 lines and 160 words each) to United Press, Admail 3735, London, EC1B 1JB in time for the closing date of June 30.

sound check with chris moss

CAST your minds back to April and you'll no doubt recall a typically memorable Sound Check feature on the exploits of four sickeningly talented rasp-n-roll renegades collectively known as The Stolen Coda.

Gushingly described by yours truly as a "mighty fireball of tuneless testosterone", the affable quartet got in touch to let us know about their deserved progress through the regional heats of the coveted Live And Unsigned music contest to secure a spot on the bill for the notoriously tough area final where they were due to do battle with the top acts from all over the south east for a place in the national grand final.

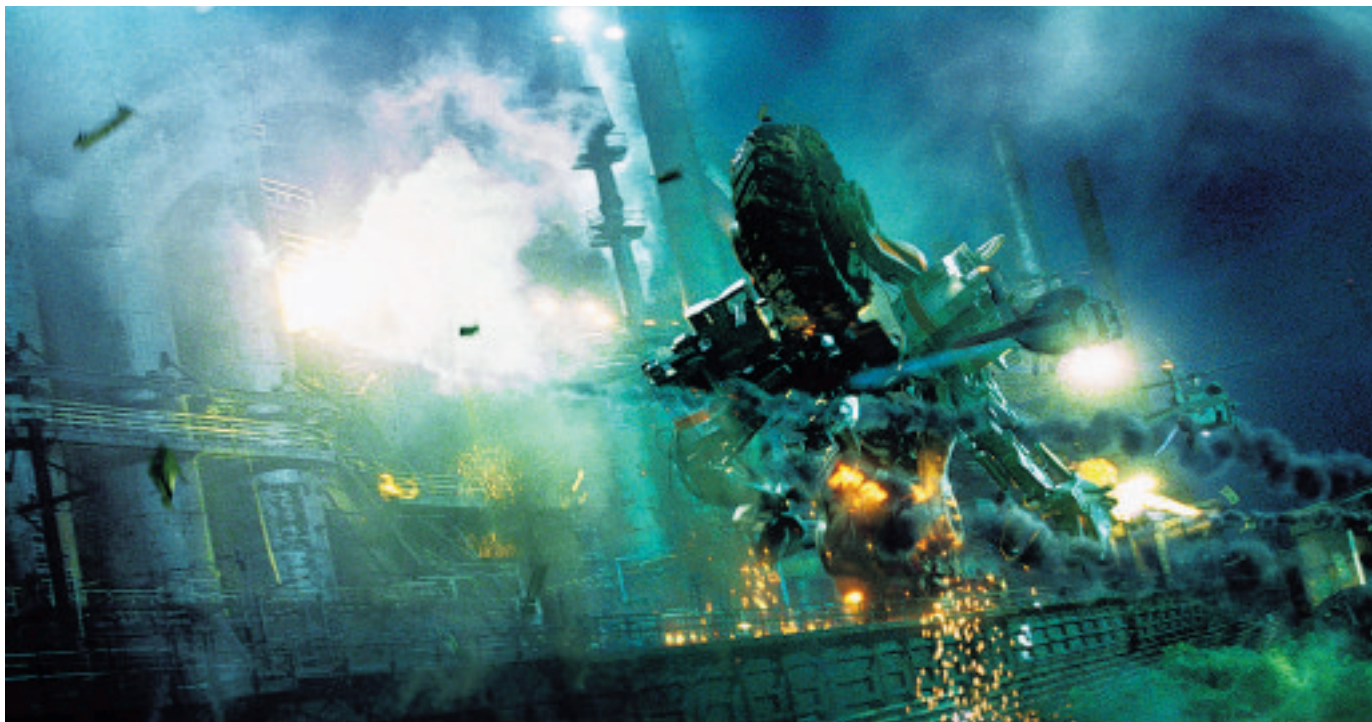

Well, dear readers, it's my pleasure to report that it all went rather well. Dane Bowers graciously overlooked all underhand attempts at pasty-based bribery and the magnificent Coda stormed into the final in a howlin' hurricane of feral, whisky-soaked bar room blues.

Aside from giving your humble correspondent another excuse to wax hyperbole about one of our town's most electrifying live acts, this momentous achievement will also mean Harlow will finally get the national recognition it deserves for being the most lush and fertile of breeding grounds for new musical talent.

But forego the popping of corks just yet because the band now need your help more than ever to make the final hurdle.

Even if you can't make it to Portsmouth Guildhall on June 27 (and the band will be laying on a coach for fans), you can still vote for them by sending a text message reading "Unsigned_16" to 84222 for a mere £1 fee.

TRANSFORMERS: REVENGE OF THE FALLEN

THE robots in disguise continue their age-old feud in the eagerly-awaited sequel to one of the biggest box office hits of 2007.

Director Michael Bay returns to the helm to destroy large swathes of planet Earth in a miasma of pyrotechnics and computer-generated imagery.

The second film pushes the visual effects envelope with more outrageous slam-bang thrills, apocalyptic set-pieces and skirmishes between the noble Autobots and their sworn enemies, the Decepticons.

At times the screen becomes a blur of entangled, shiny automaton limbs and it's difficult to work out who has the upper hand until the dust settles or one of the metal monsters powers down for good.

Two years have passed since high school student Sam Witwicky (Shia LaBeouf) and his Autobot friends defeated power-hungry Megatron. In the intervening period, humankind has forged an alliance with Autobot leader Optimus Prime (voiced by Peter Cullen) to create a top-secret military division known as NEST, which hunts down the last remaining Decepticons. Field commanders Major Lennox (Josh Duhamel) and USAF Master Sergeant Epps (Tyrese Gibson) lead these covert missions, flanked by Ironhide, Jazz, Ratchet and some new additions to the Autobot fold.

Meanwhile, Sam prepares for his first year at college by bidding farewell to his parents, beautiful girlfriend Mikaela (Megan Fox) and robot protector Bumblebee. But in the middle of class, Sam experiences powerful visions of hieroglyphs, and as these hallucinations become more intense the young man senses that Optimus Prime has been keeping secrets from him.

Sure enough, the Decepticons are preparing to return to Earth in even greater numbers to fulfil an ancient prophecy.

Transformers: Revenge Of The Fallen overstays its welcome by at least 30 minutes with a middle section that sags badly. Bay orchestrates action sequences with customary aplomb and lack of subtlety, employing slow motion ad nauseum as American pluck once again rescues humanity from annihilation.

BRITISH director Ken Loach shot his latest bittersweet slice of life on location in Manchester and scores possibly his most mainstream, feel-good hit to date.

Eric Bishop (Steve Evets) is a postman in emotional free-fall. Abandoned by his wife Chrissie and forced to single-handedly raise his rebellious teenage stepsons Ryan (Gerard Kearns) and Jess (Stefan Gumbs), Eric is teetering on the brink of a mental breakdown.

His workmate Meatballs (John Henshaw) turns to a self-help book which suggests the path to enlightenment lies in following the example of an idol. For Eric, only one man fits the bill – Manchester United legend Eric Cantona.

After the latest fiery encounter with his boys, Eric sneaks one of Ryan's spliffs and begins talking to his favourite poster of the footballing legend. Suddenly, 'King Eric' materialises in front of the stunned father.

With his hero at his side, Eric embarks on a rollercoaster journey back to self-redemption which includes helping Ryan to wriggle from the grasp of a local crimelord and re-establishing contact with a childhood sweetheart.

In love with Clio all over again

EVER since it was launched in 2005 by Ben and Sophie, pictured, of the much-loved "French car, British designers" advertising campaign, Renault's New Clio has received many plaudits, including European Car of the Year 2006.

Now, the Clio has been updated and the new look for both its hatch and Sport Tourer versions was unveiled at the Geneva Motor Show.

The Clio 2009 range will be complemented by three performance versions: Clio GT, based on the three-door hatchback, combining racy looks, specific suspension and high performance; Renaultsport 200 Cup, with the stiffer Cup chassis; and Renaultsport 200, with revised sport chassis for customers looking for a comfortable and extensively equipped performance hatchback.

Not only does the facelift give Clio the same purposeful looks as the New Laguna and New Mégane, the range of transmissions and engines has been improved and interior space has been enhanced.

The Clio also comes with an exclusive Carminat TomTom® satellite navigation system which is an option at £450. From launch, the TomTom Edition version with Carminat TomTom® and cruise control for just £360 will also be available. The easy-to-use Carminat TomTom® is the first fully-integrated GPS navigation system to market at this price and includes a 5.8in (14.75cm) colour screen for clear display.

Drivers will find everything they need for simple navigation, from detailed maps – including bird's-eye view display – to the latest traffic information, speed restrictions and speed camera location alerts.

Renault has worked hard to ensure that the versions of Clio 2009 powered by the 1.2 16V 75, TCe 100 and dCi 86 and 106 engines meet the three criteria necessary to qualify for the Renault eco² signature: they are produced in an ISO14001-certified plant, emissions do not exceed 140g/km (or are biofuel compatible) and are 95 per cent recyclable and at least 5 per cent of plastics used in production have been recycled.

As well as being ecological, Renault is renowned for cars with a raft of equipment. Options on the Clio 2009 range include hands-free card, cruise control, speed limiter, rear parking proximity sensor, automatic headlamp and wiper activation.

Renault is also well known for its commitment to safety and the Clio has features including ABS with Electronic Brakeforce Distribution, emergency brake assist, ESP, traction control and engine torque overrun regulation to help with active safety.

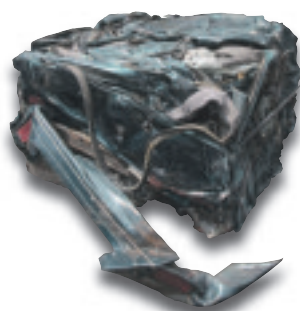

The previous version of the Clio was awarded the maximum five-star Euro NCAP rating when it was launched and the new version is built on the same platform.

Gary Hollinshead, new car sales manager at Harlow dealership E J Darlington, said: "Renault is unbeatable when it comes to producing small cars. Thanks to its comfort, practicality and reliability, New Clio has been extremely popular among drivers in the Essex area.

"The Clio is a joy to drive; it's affordable, roomy and stylish and we're thrilled that this ever-popular supermini has been given a facelift. The build quality is even better, the design is fantastic and it's as at home on the motorway as it is about town."

To test drive any of the New Clio family with the three-door range starting from £9,995, visit E J Darlington in River Way, Harlow, call (01279) 439631 or click onto www.ejdarlington.co.uk

Scrap

End of the road
for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle.
That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD).
A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

BERR

End of the road? Get over it and move on with your local ATF:

B & T Motor Salvage

We offer free collection, on the same day if necessary, using our

Late show seals 'amazing' win

Jhunjunwala scored a good 50 before flashing one to gully.

Harlow's middle order again failed to fire but Nick Butler made a composed 48.

A flurry of wickets then fell and the task looked beyond Harlow but No.10 Zaf Nazir (19) and No.11 Heskett (27) produced some late fireworks to take the hosts beyond the Hadleigh tally.

Harlow required 10 from the last two overs and Heskett hit two fours and a massive six to claim an excellent victory.

Harlow skipper James Butler joked: "I can't cope with many more of these games, we really looked like we had thrown it away.

"However, we have a bit of resilience and depth to our batting this year and Zaf and Luke's knocks were both frankly amazing. "They just took the game by the scruff of the neck and played positive cricket, good straight hitting.

"Luke and his mum have been telling me that he should be up the order and to be honest, they were proved right. Luke, get yourself up to number 10!"

The win enabled Harlow to leapfrog Hadleigh and move into second in the table.

Magnificent seven for superb Town

Harlow Tn 222-5, Langley 167

Town won by 55 runs

Herts & Essex Cricket League, division two

A THIRD-wicket partnership of 99 between Ashley Alderson (57) and Ramaya Upadhyay (45) helped Harlow Town secure their seventh win out of seven games with a 55-run victory over Langley on Saturday.

Opening batsmen Jason Gladwin (34) and Pat Yates (21) made a solid start, putting on 70 runs for the opening wicket.

Eighty-one runs were scored off the final 10 overs to leave Langley needing 223 to win off their 45 overs.

Marc Lowers took a sharp catch at gully off Alderson to dismiss one Langley opener but Town uncharacteristically put down a few catches in the field which kept their opponents in the game.

Langley's Grant Hancock (39) put Town under some pressure but his dismissal from the first delivery of Simon Rowell (2-24) put Town back in control.

Calver (2-28) and Alderson (4-22) cleared up the tail with the final five wickets falling for just five runs.

Other results:- div three - Willingale 234-4 bt Potter Street 179 by 55 runs.

Div four - Harlow Town II 239-7 (Chris Coleman 99, David Pistorious 6-13) bt Aspenden, Stan & Puck 87 by 152 runs.

Div seven - Potter Street II 70 lost to Harlow Town III 74-2 by 8 wks (Shaun Alderson 6-21).

Big club turn-out

HARLOW Running Club fielded a total of 44 runners in the second race of the Sweatshop Herts/Essex Midweek Road Race League run over a 10K course at Royston.

Both the men's and women's teams finished in 3rd place out of seven teams and overall Harlow were in 3rd place. The veteran men's side also finished 3rd.

First Harlow runner was Jared Bethel in 8th place out of 250 runners in a personal best time of 35 mins 49sec. Roy Steven and John Tennant finished 1st and 3rd vet 50 respectively.

Dionne Jones was first Harlow woman (3rd overall) and 1st vet 35 finisher. Linda Selby was 3rd vet 55.

Relegation confirmed

HARLOW Town FC will play in the Ryman League division one north next season.

The Hawks' relegation from the premier division was confirmed at the League's AGM on Monday.

Meanwhile, Harlow Town reserves will play in the Capital League central division next term.

Duo called up for All-England Championships

TWO Harlow athletes have been chosen to represent their counties at the All-England Schools Championships at Sheffield on July 10-11.

Passmore's School pupil Billy Falconer and Markus Hunt have been selected for the competition after excellent performances at the weekend.

High jumper Billy will represent Essex but Markus will compete for Hertfordshire as he is studying his A-Levels at The Bishop's Stortford High School.

Billy added the Essex schools title to the county championship gold he won earlier this year.

In a very exciting high jump competition Billy, who is now receiving coaching from national coach Carol Jackson, won in a personal best (PB) of 1.93m which places him 4th in the UK in his age group (U-17).

Billy said: "I'm so pleased to get another PB and be selected for the All-England Schools.

"My aim now is to clear two metres this season."

A large contingent of Harlow-based athletes represented West Essex Schools at the county schools championships and did the town proud by picking up two golds, three bronze medals and 10 places in the first six, plus seven personal bests at sunny Chelmsford.

Daniel Yaxley made it a 'double' by adding the school titles to the county title he won earlier this year.

Yaxley, who is now being coached by Olympic competitor John Bicourt (1972, Munich and 1976 Montreal), led all the way in the 1,500m and broke clear with 600m to go for a PB of 4:54.2.

A fine bronze medal was won by Brian Kinuthia in the Year 7 boys high jump with 1.43m.

Amy Larkin won bronze in the inter girls hammer with 29.11m.

Tom Richards, throwing into the wind, also gained a bronze in the inter boys javelin with 46.64m.

Tom Larkin was 4th in the inter boys 400m final in 52.2s and Shane Storey was also 4th in the inter boys long jump with 6.22m, only 1cm short of bronze.

Fifth place was gained by Jamie Solomon (Harlow Athletic Club) in the inter boys 800m in a fine 2 mins 5.5.

Burnt Mill's Sophie Fuhr

and Lauren Freeman also placed 5th in their events. Sophie running 49.7s in the inter girls 300m hurdles and Lauren gaining a PB of 12 mins 48 secs in the 3,000m inter girls.

Amelia Barrett clocked 1:54.5 for a PB in her 600m heat (Year 7 girls) but was 6th in the final in 1:55.

Lewis Chalk placed 4th in his heat of Year 7 boys 800m in a PB of 2:33.2 but felt unwell in the final and placed 9th in 2:43.

Ryan Dunne ran a PB of 4:48 in the junior boys 1,500m, just failing to make the final.

James Palmer was outside the top 8 in the junior boys shot with 9.10m.

Tyler Brown ran 12.8s for 4th in his junior boys 100m.

Isobel Moss (Harlow Athletic Club) was 7th in the U-15 girls 1,500m (PB 5:42).

Marleen Avontuur (Harlow Athletic Club) came 2nd in the U-13 girls 800m at the Hertfordshire Schools Championships.

Her time of 2:33.0 beat the existing Championship record.

Markus Hunt also had two fine wins at Braintree on Sunday. He won the 100m in 11.3s and the 200m in 22.3s at the National Junior Athletics League meeting.

League honours explosive Alemite

ALEMITE Athletic received a special award at the Footprint Bishop's Stortford, Stansted & District Football League annual dinner.

The Double-winning Harlow side secured a plaque from the League to mark another successful season.

The club won the Essex Junior Cup this year.

They were also premier division champions for the third year running.

Bosses Peter Lucia and Richard Stapleton received the awards and plaque, as well as the Premier Division Sportsmanship Award.

As if that was not enough, Lucia also won three prizes in the raffle!

Winning the Essex Junior Cup capped another remarkable season for the club.

This historic competition was first staged in the 1930s and the cup dates to pre-Second World War.

A League spokesman said: "Alemite have won the Essex Junior Cup and the league and we are presenting this as a memento of their achievement."

Meanwhile, Harlow-based official Danny Innes paid tribute to the teams as he was named Referee of the Year.

He said: "I would like to thank the teams because without the teams you cannot ref and without refs you cannot play."

Late show seals 'amazing' win

THE combination of resilience and 'amazing cricket' helped Harlow to a crucial home victory over fellow promotion hopefuls Hadleigh at Marigolds.

The Hadleigh innings started off in bizarre fashion and Saturday with Jason McNally delivering five no balls in his first over – and Luke Heskett snaring two wickets in his.

Undeterred, the visitors pushed on to reach 85-3 from the first 10 overs.

Captain Adam Fleming (32) was particularly dominant until Abhi Jhunjunwala clean bowled him.

The introduction of the two Harlow spinners in Nick Butler and Jhunjunwala really slowed the Hadleigh progress.

Only Michael Tibbenham found any fluency as he batted his way to an excellent 57 not out, as Hadleigh finished on 222.

Overseas star Jhunjunwala (4-57) profited most with the ball. He was well aided by Butler (2-17).

The early departure of Rehman Ahmed brought Jhunjunwala to the crease and both he and Waqas Akthar batted carefully in the face of some hostile bowling from the Hadleigh seamers.

Mark Hall minefield

The Star unearths a £54,000 funding blackhole and asks why two years after a state-of-the-art athletics stadium was completed that the town's sports clubs still cannot host competitive events?

SOME 27 months after developers finished building work on a sporting 'Mecca' in Harlow, the town's athletic and running clubs are still unable to stage competitive sport at the complex.

The state-of-the-art track and field facility at Mark Hall Sportscentre in London Road was billed as a focal point for the East region when builders completed the two-year multi-million pound scheme with cash from the Gateway Project.

The athletic and running clubs' old home in Hammarskjold Road was sold off for housing.

Mark Hall says it needs more money to finish the work at the new site, but both Essex County Council and Harlow District Council claim extra funding – of potentially £54,000 – has not been claimed by the school!

Meanwhile, Harlow Athletic Club – which last staged competitive meetings at its old run-down Sportcentre home more than 16 YEARS AGO – is still paying other athletic clubs to use their facilities as its own are still not up to scratch.

The main problem of drainage at the site has largely been sorted, while Harlow Athletic Club say minor works are needed to get the site ready for UKA (UK Athletics) approval.

However, UKA say they have been REFUSED permission to inspect the site by the school over the last year!

There also appears to be a stalemate over money.

Harlow Councillor Tony Hall, Chairman of the Environment and Community committee, told Star Sport: "As part of the legal agreement for the athletics track, the Council agreed to allocate £13,650 per year, for a maximum of 11 years, that Mark Hall School could claim for routine maintenance and repairs. Since the completion of the track [in 2007] this allocation has remained unclaimed by the school.

"The Council's Head of Community Services has repeatedly requested meetings with the school to discuss this and other matters relating to the track and is awaiting a response. The school has not raised the funding issue with the Council and we look forward to their response to our invitation."

An Essex County Council spokeswoman added: "We have a funding agreement with Harlow Council. We are aware that the centre should have had the grant."

UKA Regional Athletics Facility Assessor Ralph Burrows first assessed the London Road complex in 2007 but drainage problems meant he was unable to give it the accreditation it needed.

He told Star Sport: "Mark Hall was first certified in August 2007 and was awarded a Class 5 rating not being suitable to hold competitions in pole vault, hammer, discus and shot. Significant reasons for imposing these restrictions were non-conforming event sites and the poor drainage of the infield.

"I am advised the drainage problem has now been resolved and subject to inspection, the classification of Mark Hall may be improved.

"Requests made to the facility, on behalf of UKA, to conduct annual inspections were made in 2008 and again earlier this year. To date the facility has NOT given its authorisation."

Harlow Athletic Club spokesman Paul Avontuur says all members want the work done as quickly as possible. "There are things that are holding us back with this development and that's disappointing. What's worrying is there is no timescale in which this will be resolved. It is unclear who is taking responsibility for it."

June Tulloch, Director of Sport at Mark Hall, has pledged to set up a special meeting with officials from Essex County Council, Harlow Council, UKA and officials from the town's athletic and running clubs to discuss the ongoing problems.

She was unable to comment due to time constraints but says there is an action plan to get everything done although Mark Hall has NOT received annual funding and needs more money.

It's a Mark Hall minefield and it as time drags on and on the real losers are the town's athletic and running clubs – and the people of Harlow.
